Summary of reasons for decision:

The computer moving image file is deemed to be objectionable because it promotes and supports the exploitation of children for sexual purposes. The clip depicts boys engaged in sexual activity. There is no alternative reading of the clip other than it is intended for the sexual arousal of persons with a predilection for boys. It supports the notion that children are legitimate subjects for adult sexual arousal. The classification of this publication interferes with the right to freedom of expression set out in the New Zealand Bill of Rights Act 1990. However, this is an outcome that is consistent with Parliament's intention and reflects the concern of a free and democratic society to limit the availability of publications that promote and support the exploitation of children or young persons for sexual purposes.
